

It is a pleasure to communicate with you through Myrtis' e-newsletter.

Here you will find information about our activities, as well as Myrtis' news. There is space at your disposal, for thoughts, opinions, suggestions and discussions in relation with Myrtis.

The renewal of Myrtis' site is still in progress. Here you can see the new picture, which will be continually enriched with new data. Via "surfing" you can have access to it.

I look forward to your opinion about the replenished site.

The bilingual presentation will soon become tri-lingual, as it will appear in French also.

Finally, I would like through this newsletter to thank the medical, archaeological and museological team, as well as all those who contributed to the integration of my first two research projects
