

After visiting four museums in Greece -the New Acropolis Museum, the Goulandris Museum of Natural History, the National Archaeological Museum and the Archaeological Museum of Thessaloniki- the exhibition “Myrtis: Face to Face with the Past” is traveling abroad, which entails new operation and transportation needs.

Under “Surroundings” in her site, you will find all the new elements that will appear in the effort to cover the ensuing needs of the exhibition, as well as the new construction prospects.
